8 weeks	Pupils will learn about the millions of people who were taken from West Africa between the 1400s and 1700s and sold as slaves - mainly in the West Indies, Europe and North and South America. The focus here is historical enquiry and using evidence to communicate about the past of slavery. Pupils will be introduced to topic by exploring different African civilisations throughout Africa's history. Here, they will explore their main achievements and the developments in Africa prior to the slavery era. The Songhai Empire and the contributions to Africa will also be examined. This will ensure that misconceptions about African history are tackled from the on-set as pupils understand that Africa has, in fact, a very rich history and is not limited to slavery. The series of lessons based on slavery will focus on themes ranging from the Transatlantic Slave Trade, middle passage, auctions, plantation life and resistance.	Geographical understanding of Africa
Assessment points and tasks	Written feedback points	Learning Outcomes (tested at the end and related to subject competences)
